Seeking Safety

Seeking Safety is an evidence-based, present-focused counseling model to help people attain safety from trauma and/or substance abuse.

It can be conducted in group and/or individual modality. It is an extremely safe model as it directly addresses both trauma and addiction, but without requiring clients to delve into the trauma narrative (the detailed account of disturbing trauma memories), thus making it relevant to a very broad range of clients.

Seeking Safety can be conducted in group or individual format; for men and women; adults or adolescents; any type of trauma, any type of substance. Clients do not have to meet formal criteria for PTSD or substance abuse-- it is often used as a general model to teach coping skills.

25 topics, each a safe coping skill

The key principles of Seeking Safety

- 1) Safety as the overarching goal (helping clients attain safety in their relationships, thinking, behavior, and emotions).
- 2) Integrated treatment (working on both trauma and substance abuse at the same time)
- 3) A focus on ideals to counteract the loss of ideals in both trauma and substance abuse
- 4) Four content areas: Cognitive, Behavioral, Interpersonal, Case management
